GENERAL INFORMATION

Actuated Ball Valve Assembly General Information:

All actuated assembly prices include valve, mounting kit, actuator and actuator springs (pneumatic spring return only).
Pricing for pneumatic actuated assemblies includes actuator with hard anodized finish.
All components in mounting kits for stainless steel ball valves are made with stainless steel material.
Mounting kits on the model V3000, DM240, DM340, DM3VT & DM3VL include screws and washers. No bracket is required because the valve has an ISO 5211 integral mounting pad.
Sizing for all pneumatic actuated assemblies is based on full rated pressure of the valve, with clean lubricating media through the valve and an air supply of 80 psi. For sizing other than 80 psi air supply please use actuator sizing charts or consult DuraValve.
All actuators were sized based on valve being used at maximum pressure. If valve is to be used at lower pressure and a non-slurry application, a smaller actuator may be used. Please consult factory for any special sizing of actuators.
To compute the cost of actuator accessories, please add the list price of actuator accessories (solenoid valves and limit switches) to the actuator assembly price.
All electric assemblies are sized with 120 volts electric actuators. If other voltage is required, please consult factory for pricing and availability.
DuraValve offers many accessories and options to the electric actuators including positioners, heaters, extra auxiliary switches, brakes, feedback potentiometers and many other items. Please consult factory for pricing and availability.
